Nationalists Prepare to Retaliate

By SPENCER MOOSA
TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Indications mounted on Formosa today that the Chinese Nationalists are preparing to bomb the Communist mainland if the Reds unleash massive artillery or bombing attack on Quemoy.

The Communists gave no indication of carrying out last week's threat of redoubled bombardment, however. Up to mid-afternoon, the Nationalist Defense Ministry had no reports of shelling since Friday, which was the lightest day since the Red shelling of Quemoy started two weeks ago.

The indications of just-in-case bombing preparations came after a top U.S. official in Washington said the complex of new Communist airfields near Quemoy would be bombed almost immediately if used for assaults on the Nationalist stronghold island close to the mainland.

The U.S. authority hinted Nationalist planes would do the job. But if the Reds try to carry out reprisal raids on Formosa or the Pescadores, the United States would be treaty-bound to protect them. The official said only conventional weapons — not nuclear bombs — were involved in the possible bombings.

The U.S. threat was matched by an unofficial one from Moscow. In the strongest Soviet denunciation of the West since the 1956 Suez crisis, Soviet newspapers and broadcasts indicated the Soviet Union and Red China may be about to join in some decisive action, diplomatic or otherwise.

The Communist party newspaper, Pravda, said any spread of hostilities over the offshore islands would provoke Communist retaliation throughout the Far East.

Western diplomats in Moscow sensed an approaching climax to the crisis as Premier Khrushchev cut short his vacation in the south to return to the Soviet capital. He told a visitor he was dealing with urgent matters, would stay in Moscow a few days, then resume his holiday.

Racial Crisis Interrupts Ike's Vacation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Eisenhower planned today to interrupt his vacation at a Washington conference on integration as the involved racial problem brought mounting tension in some sections of the South.

The President was scheduled to confer with Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers at the White House. Gov. Orval F. Faubus of Arkansas said Friday night he felt the feeling against racial mixing at Little Rock was "much stronger and deeper than a year ago, and apparently was a result of the trouble at the time."

The governor said in a recorded interview from Washington that he would close Central High rather than obey any Supreme Court mandate to mix the races there immediately.

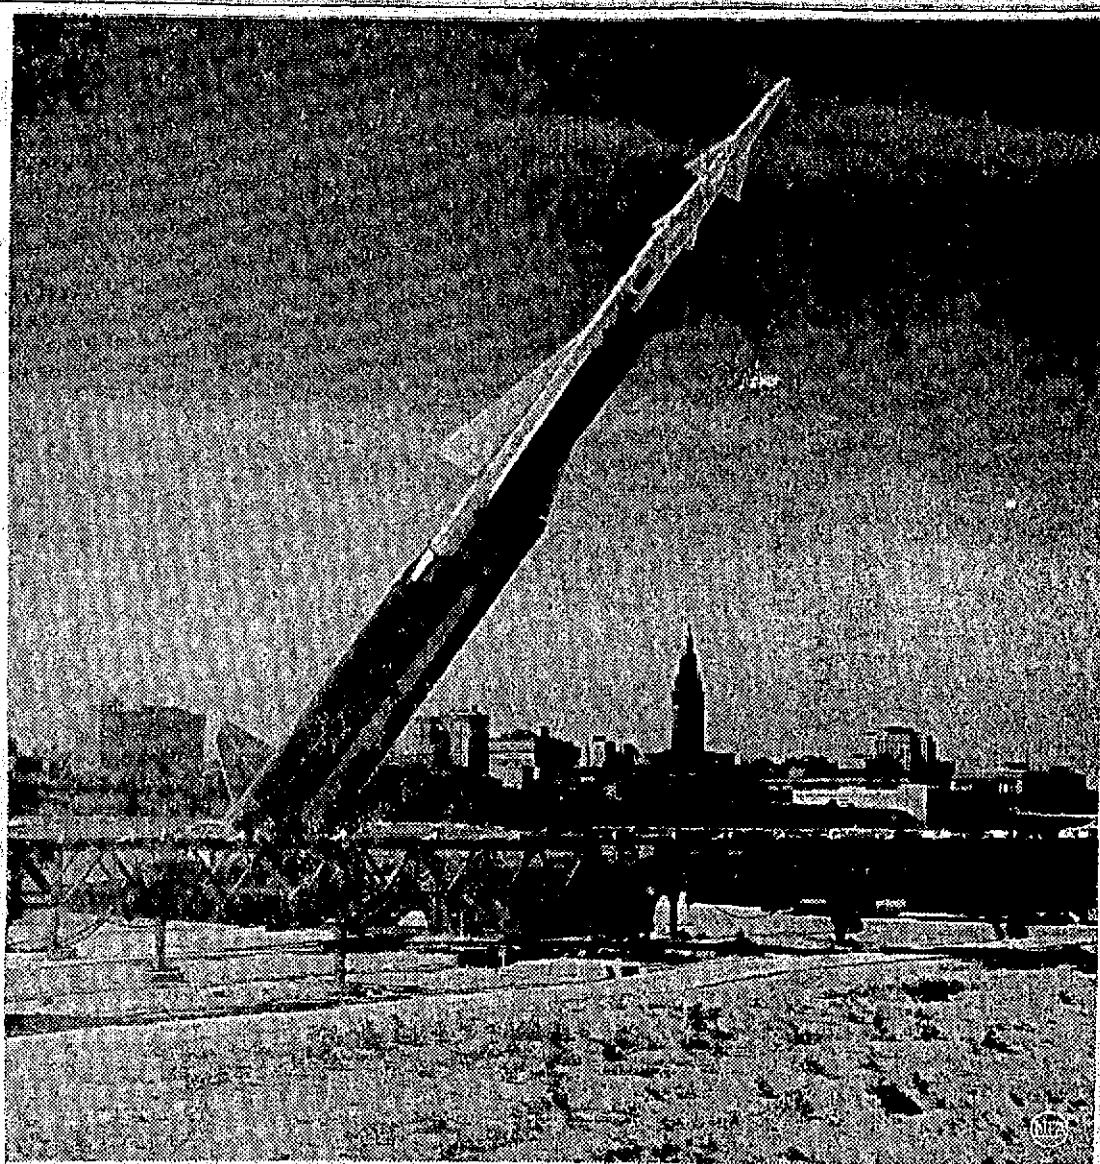

"If you have to use force to integrate, it means it cannot be done peacefully," he said. "I am unalterably opposed to forced integration."

In Georgia, a Superior Court judge warned that if FBI agents investigate his court and its actions "in any high-handed and menacing manner I will not hesitate to put them in the common jail of the county."

Judge Walter J. Gier issued the statement at the Columbia home after leaving federal officials had filed a civil rights suit against three Terrell County voter registrars and two deputy registrars he had appointed.

The suit — first filed in the 1957 civil rights act — charged the registrars with discriminating against prospective Negro voters in the Terrell County seat of Dawson, in south Georgia.

The judge termed the suit "arbitrary, unwarranted and high-handed." Then, acting on a request from the registrars, he ordered them not to furnish any documents under their control to federal agencies unless they are ordered by a court for use as evidence.

Suggests Paul Klipsch Rates Man of Month for Speaker Featured at Brussels Fair

By MARY ANITA LASETER

Today, if a man of the month were chosen for Hope, Paul Klipsch would undoubtedly be the choice of an overwhelming majority.

Because of his invention of the Klipschorn, the Shorthorn, the Model H, and other developments in the field of sound reproduction, our town is now on the sound track of the acoustical world.

This was further demonstrated at the Brussels World's Fair where two examples of the corner sound reproduction mechanism, as well as the new Model H, have been exhibited in the Hi-Fi demonstration at the U. S. pavilion.

Though other concerns have "associated equipment" (amplifiers, pre-amplifiers, tape machines, microphones, etc.) exhibited, Klipsch and Associates had the only speaker system to be demonstrated at the Hi-Fi show in the U.S. pavilion.

The term, Hi-Fi, is often used incorrectly to apply to equipment which is sometime the opposite of the true meaning of high fidelity. For that reason, Mr. Klipsch prefers "accurate sound reproduction" to describe his equipment, which combines tonality and geometry.

It does, until one hears this remarkable man's remarkable invention. The speakers can make the listener feel like he is in the very presence of the original sound. Stereo for short, involves making two recordings — one for the left side and one for the right side of the original subject matter — be it Bach, Boogie or even a flying machine. Thus, on playback there arises a right and a left side. By a simple technique, the middle may also be produced. This is a recent contribution of Mr. Klipsch and one which enables accurate reproduction of acoustics as well as tonality.

No wonder there has been no lack of crowds at the demonstration in Brussels. The first day of the show, reports began coming back to the States telling of "packed houses" at the demonstration building which seats 1,100.

An independent consumer's research organization has called the Klipschorn "the standard by which we judge other speakers." As far back as Dec. 26, 1951, the "Wall Street Journal" wrote of it in this way:

"The very best home speaker systems are expensive. One of the most costly — and considered by many sound experts to be the best in the country for deep bass reproduction is called the Klipschorn made by Klipsch and Associates of Hope, Ark."

Let this be an opportunity for his fellow citizens of Hope, Ark., to join with people all over the world in a voice vote of appreciation to Paul Klipsch for his achievements in developing "accurate sound reproduction."

Congressmen Decline to Give Ideas

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Two Arkansas congressmen yesterday declined to spell out what they thought about possible use of federal marshals to enforce integration at Little Rock Central High School.

Both said, however, that marshals, rather than troops, were the proper enforcement group.

Sen. John L. McClellan and Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, Democrats, were interviewed after arriving from Washington to attend the Democratic State Convention, which opens here today.

McClellan will deliver the keynote address at the convention this afternoon and Mills will be permanent convention chairman.

They were asked about reports that the federal government is recruiting deputy marshals for duty at Central High.

McClellan said, "under the law the marshals are the enforcement officers of the federal courts." He would not elaborate and made it clear he wasn't recommending use of marshals.

"The use of troops to force integration is illegal," he said. "The use of marshals to carry out a court order is not illegal if the court order is valid and constitutional."

He said he regarded the U.S. Supreme Court decision that school segregation was unconstitutional as an invalid decision.

Mills said he looked on the use of troops as a "grave error" by President Eisenhower. He added that he hoped the government wouldn't resort to using troops to enforce court integration orders at Little Rock or elsewhere.

He said that at the time Eisenhower sent troops to Little Rock he felt the U.S. marshals were "the proper enforcement group."

D. C. Enrollment Is 73.8% Negroes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Approximately 73.8 per cent of the enrollment in District of Columbia public schools opening next Monday will be Negroes, school officials estimate. It was 71.2 per cent last year.

Enrollment of white pupils in the public schools in the nation's capital has decreased steadily since 1935. Negroes have outnumbered whites since 1950. The schools were integrated in 1954.

Estimates made public Thursday by School Supt. Carl F. Hansen were that this year's enrollment will total 113,500, of which 83,763 will be Negroes and 29,737 whites.

Insurance Is Available for Students

A school child accident insurance plan, under which the parents of every enrolled child in the Hope Public School system will be offered low cost accident insurance, has been approved by the school board for the third year, James H. Jones, Superintendent of Hope Public Schools, announced today.

Mr. Jones said it has always been a matter of great concern to the school people when children were seriously injured and had to be taken to the hospital. He pointed out that the school board and the schools themselves have no legal liability in case of accident or injuries to children in the performance of their normal school duties.

The bills must be paid by the parents.

He said that this type of coverage will relieve that kind of situation greatly. It will assure every child attending school in Hope School District adequate medical attention in case any accident occurs to him in connection with his normal school activities.

The student protection plan pays: For loss of life $1,000. Both hands, both feet, sight of both eyes $750.00. One hand and one foot $375.00. Sight of either eye $1,000.

Students that participate in football are covered under a special football policy. Students participating in other athletics are covered by the student policy.

An application explaining the plan will be sent all parents by the students. Please study this and, if interested, complete the application on the form and enclose $2.00 and send back to the teacher. Parents may select plan 1 which is 24 hour coverage — 12 months per year and provides complete accident coverage on a "Round-the-Clock" basis. Provides accident insurance not only at home, but at school, or at play on weekends, and during the entire summer when school is not in session. The cost of Plan 1 is $2.00 for the 12 month coverage.

Ike Flies Back to Washington For Conferences

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower flies to Washington for a few hours today for conferences on two major problems—the Far East crisis and school integration.

Interrupting his vacation, the President arrived in Newport from the summer White House across Narragansett Bay by helicopter or boat—depending on the weather—to Quonset Point, R. I. There he boards his private plane, Columbine III.

Early this week it was announced that Eisenhower would return to Washington today to be host at a late afternoon White House reception for a group of American, British and Canadian college educators—members and guests of the American Assn. of Universities.

Later he booked meetings with Secretary of Commerce Weeks and Secretary of Labor Mitchell, an on goodby visit with his economic adviser, Dr. Gabriel Hague, who has resigned to return to private business.

The President also arranged a White House luncheon conference, on the Far East situation and other matters, with Secretary of State Dulles.

They will size up again the Red China threat to invade the Red Chinese Nationalist offshore islands, and any developments since they conferred in Newport on that matter for an hour and 45 minutes Thursday.

The upshot of that meeting was a Dulles announcement that Eisenhower will not hesitate to commit American armed forces to defense of Quemoy and other Nationalist-held islands near the China mainland—if the President decides they are essential to security of the nation. Chiang Kai-shek bastion, Formosa.

Late Friday the summer White House announced Eisenhower also would confer in Washington with Atty. Gen. Rogers. The conference topic as put by Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty:

"The various pending matters before the courts on the subject of school integration."

Hagerty declined to provide any detail, but the Eisenhower-Rogers talks almost certainly will deal in part with the impact of the impending U. S. Supreme Court decision—probably by midmonth—on whether integration should be resumed or delayed at Central High School in Little Rock.

Another likely aspect of the talks was how the federal government will deal with any defiance this year of court-ordered integration.

During his brief Washington stay the President also plans to act on 18 bills, last of more than 300 that Congress sent to him shortly before it adjourned two weeks ago.

Piano Firm Plans Plant at Conway

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—The Baldwin Piano Co. of Cincinnati will establish a plant at Conway to manufacture a new model spinet piano, officials of the Faulkner County Industrial Development Corp. announced today.

The firm will temporarily occupy a 50,000-square foot building formerly used by Ward Body Works. Construction of a new plant is planned in the indefinite future on a 66-acre plot on the northwest edge of the city.

Baldwin also will lease a downtown warehouse for storage facilities.

The new plant will be sold under the trade name "Howard," and is a new model of 32 piano, which Baldwin has been manufacturing for years at plants in Cincinnati and Chicago Heights.

Details of potential employment and payroll were not released by the company.

John Jordan, Baldwin's vice president in charge of manufacturing, said in a letter to Thomas G. Wilson, president of the Faulkner County Industrial Development Corp., that the company expects to begin training operations in the new plant within the next few months and that the need for personnel will grow in proportion to company demand for the new plant.

Sales Remain at About Same Level

ST. LOUIS (AP)—For the sixth consecutive week, department store sales of the Eighth Federal Reserve District last week were about the same level of a year ago.

The gain averaged an estimated six per cent with all reporting areas showing in the increase. The gains included an estimated 18 per cent at Memphis, Tenn., 10 per cent at Little Rock, Ark., nine per cent at Louisville, Ky., one per cent in the St. Louis area, and five per cent in eight smaller cities.

District sales were up an estimated four per cent for the four weeks that ended Saturday and three per cent for the year to date.

Conservation of Land Loans Are Available

To raise the values of their farms and increase their incomes, a number of Hempstead County Farmers are banking in terms of better soil conservation practices, permanent pasture improvement, full development and use of farm water supplies, and good drainage, reports W. M. Sparks, Farmers Home Administration county supervisor.

The Farmers Home Administration has a loan program to help eligible farmers carry out needed soil and water conservation measures, he said, and added that the practices most needed and most likely to be carried on through the agency's loans in this area include terracing, improving pastures drilling wells, irrigation, etc.

The making of soil and water conservation loans to farmers who are eligible is one of the functions of the agency's county office located on the fourth floor of the courthouse in Hope, the county supervisor pointed out. Each county has a 3-member county committee, and one of its duties is to determine whether or not an applicant is eligible for a loan. To be eligible, the applicant must be a farm owner or operator, with necessary experience; whose credit requirements cannot be supplied through private or cooperative sources.

The agency has completed approximately four years of making soil and water conservation loans under the present program, Mr. Sparks said. During that time approximately 7,250 individual farm families throughout the nation, plus 141 associations serving approximately 5,200 families, have borrowed $43,100,000. About 80 per cent of this total helped farmers develop farm water and irrigation systems. This included buying pumps, motors and piping, drilling wells, and constructing and repairing irrigation ditches and laterals.

Farmers used the rest of the loan funds to develop livestock and household water systems, and for soil conservation practices such as terracing, improved pastures, drainage, clearing and tree planting.

In Hempstead County soil and water conservation loans have been made for a total of $24,875. For the present fiscal year, Congress made $5,500,000 available for direct soil and water conservation loans. This is in addition to a larger amount which local banks or other private lenders may advance for this type of loan, with repayment insured by the Farmers Home Administration.

At the time of their expulsion, Brown, Miller and Smith were members of the organization's board.

A present board member, Dr. Malcolm C. Taylor, issued this statement:

"The action was taken in order to stamp out activities which a majority of the members of the board considered to be unbecoming to members of the Capital Citizens Council."

"Our council is dedicated to the cause of maintaining states rights and racial integrity and has no intentions of becoming a forum for character assassinations nor an undercover anti-Jewish organization."

Goodwin agreed with Mrs. Miller that a reported attempt to organize a chapter of the Ku Klux Klan had nothing to do with the ouster.

Citizens Council members revealed Tuesday that a KKK organizer had attempted to sign them and they refused.

It was reported last night that a Klan organizer was staying at the home of the Rev. Wesley Pruden, president of the citizens council.

Pruden issued this statement today:

"The rumor that a Klan organizer is staying in my home is an outright lie. I have never heard of any such person. This rumor is another effort to destroy my influence because of the stand I have taken for states rights and racial integrity."

Anti-Jewish Group Ousted From CCC

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An official of the segregationist Capital Citizens Council here charged today that three members were ousted last spring for attempting to turn the council into an "anti-Jewish organization."

The accusation was quickly denied by the wife of one of the ousted segregationists.

Tommy Goodwin, the council's acting secretary, said that Robert Ewing Brown, Will J. Smith and Julian Miller were expelled by the board of directors about the first of June "for efforts to turn the Capital Citizens Council into an anti-Jewish organization and for other activities unbecoming board members."

Brown, immediate past president of the council, said of the allegation:

"That's fantastic, but I have no comment."

Miller could not be reached but his wife issued a denial in her husband's behalf. "Anything about anti-Jewish feeling is absolutely false," she said.

Mrs. Miller said she belonged to the citizens council but planned to resign.

Smith could not be reached. At the time of their expulsion, Brown, Miller and Smith were members of the organization's board.

A present board member, Dr. Malcolm C. Taylor, issued this statement:

"The action was taken in order to stamp out activities which a majority of the members of the board considered to be unbecoming to members of the Capital Citizens Council."

"Our council is dedicated to the cause of maintaining states rights and racial integrity and has no intentions of becoming a forum for character assassinations nor an undercover anti-Jewish organization."

Goodwin agreed with Mrs. Miller that a reported attempt to organize a chapter of the Ku Klux Klan had nothing to do with the ouster.

Judge Lemley Reported to Be Leaving Bench

Federal Judge Harry J. Lemley of Hope has decided to retire and has mailed a retirement letter to the president. It was reported in legal and political circles yesterday at Little Rock.

Judge Lemley, in seclusion at his home, could not be reached by reporters. A source close to him said that Judge Lemley did not wish to discuss the matter at this time.

His retirement would leave the Eastern District of Arkansas without any judge. The other Eastern District judge, Thomas C. Trimble of Lonoke, resigned 20 months ago and though a successor, J. Smith Hickey of Harrison, was nominated the Senate adjourned without confirming him.

Judge Lemley is chief judge of the Western District in which Judge John E. Miller of Fort Smith also sits. But Judge Lemley also was assigned a percentage of the cases in the Eastern District.

Friends attributed the retirement report to Judge Lemley's health. He was 75 in August and is under the care of a doctor who, friends said, has advised the judge to make a drastic reduction in his work.

He took an extra load this year in agreeing to handle a portion of the Little Rock school integration case, which is important both legally and historically. His assignment to that case ended on September 1 but it was known among his friends that he had taken the case to heart and was still deeply concerned with it after it had left his hands.

Lemley, a native of Virginia, was appointed to the bench by President Franklin Delano Roosevelt in the spring of 1939. He moved from Virginia to Hope in 1941 and has lived here ever since. He practiced law here from 1912 until appointed to the Federal Court.

Truex Says He Dislikes Acting

By JAMES BACON
AP Motion Picture Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ernest Truex says he doesn't like acting, never has.

Yet when the new Ann Southern Show goes on CBS-TV shortly Truex will be starting his 6th season as an actor.

"I'm grateful for everything acting has brought me," Truex said, "but there's no harm in me acting. He's always been working, sometimes drudgery."

He's also one actor who never yearns to play Hamlet. "That's how I started in this business at the age of 5," he said.

Truex's father was a country doctor who once treated a penniless Shakespearean actor. The actor used his convalescence to teach five-year-old Ernest how to recite Shakespeare.

Truex got so good with the Bard that he went on the road, billed as "The Child Hamlet." Being tiny, he played child roles until he was married and the father of a son.

In one play he portrayed a 13-year-old boy so convincingly that a 9-year-old actress in the same play got a violent crush on him. "She was so demonstrative about it," Truex recalled, "that it became most embarrassing. I couldn't convince her that I was married and the father of a son."

Truex finally got out of child roles by growing a mustache. "I immediately was cast — and still am — as a hunkered husk, bawdy," he said.

That's what he will play in his new Southern series.

SLEEPING SICKNESS
SEOUL (AP) — Sleeping sickness — encephalitis — has killed 1,087 Koreans, mostly children, out of 4,011 patients, South Korea health officials said today. A Seoul newspaper said the government's "half-hearted" response to the epidemic was largely responsible for the epidemic. The magazine is believed to carry the sleeping sickness virus.

CONVENTION COMPLEX—In a strong bid to capture a larger share of the nation's convention business, Detroit has embarked on a large-scale building program on its downtown river front. In construction on the Detroit River are 54 million dollars in facilities to attract conventions and trade shows. Above is architect's model of a convention-exhibition building, slated for completion in 1960, which will be part of the Motor City's new civic center. The round building will hold up to 14,000 persons in a main auditorium. The adjoining two-story rectangular structure will contain over 396,000 square feet of exhibit space, a ballroom seating 3,250 and 30 meeting rooms. There will be parking for 3,775 cars.

LEADING THE WAY—Clevelanders are all agog over a "first" that their city can claim when, early in September, the gleaming white cruise ship "South American" transits the massive Dwight D. Eisenhower locks of the St. Lawrence Seaway. It will be the first passenger ship to make the trip and the first vessel drawing more than 14 feet (she needs 16 feet) to pass through the channel where the International Rapids raged before being tamed by the Seaway project. Nine months later, the Seaway will permit passage of ocean freighters 10 times the capacity of the present "lakers" to dock at Port Cleveland. Wanted for Murder

Paul Smart came to Twenty Springs a fugitive from justice. An unsuspicious sheriff made him a deputy and then sent him on a mission to arrest a man in a position to expose him.

THE BRAND RIDER

By Ed La Vanway

SOLDIERS THREE—Seeing triple is Sgt. E. H. Johnson of the 682nd Engineers, Viking Division, as he tries to remember who's who among the Work triplets from Zimmerman, Minn. The three brothers came to Minneapolis to sign up with the National Guard. Trying on their new helmets are, front to rear, David, Douglas and Donald.

PLAYING FOOTIE—Right at home in the Never-Never Land of Hollywood, Brian, the 21-inch-tall king of the Leprechauns, is actually a normal-sized actor Jimmy O'Dea in some trick photography during the filming of Walt Disney's "Darby O'Gill and the Little People," a comedy-fantasy about Ireland's leprechauns.

Chapter XXXVI

"It's just that sometimes things get to be just too much, at home. My laughter is ill most of the time, and my wife complains constantly because I don't make enough money for us to live as she'd like to. I just have to get out sometimes," said Higbee.

"We had a big paper drive at the school a few months ago, and I met Caille Janssen then. 'Pretty soon we were meeting whenever we could. I began to go to her house, as there was less chance of our being seen. After all, I had my reputation to think of."

"I always parked under that tree, but I didn't know it was near a path that the kids used. It would have been alright if it had been anyone but Bruce who noticed the car."

"Why would Bruce know it?" Morrison asked. "Because one day he waited after school to see me. There had been a teachers' meeting and it was late when I found him in my room. I told him that I'd drive him home."

"He took great notice of my car, even mentioned the fender. My wife had defied it. I got in. 'That was why he sneaked out. He must have seen the car there before when he walked along that path because he seemed to know just about what time I'd be there. He even knew where I'd been.'"

"Why that night especially?" "It was that contest."

"Then the letter was to you?" "I had forgotten to return his music to him, and he was bound and determined to have it to work on the next day. He said he wanted to have time to use whatever I offered in the way of suggestions, and reciprocity so it would be nice and neat to mail."

"He was already in the car?" "Yes, I never look it. I got in before I noticed him, and he said he hoped I didn't mind him being there, but he didn't want to bother me when I was visiting Mrs. Janssen, so he just decided to wait. I could see my reputation and career going up in smoke because of that snooty little sneak. I knew he'd get around to spreading the story, if he hadn't already done it."

"The look on my face must have frightened him because he tried to say he was sorry and get out of the car. I grabbed him, and he began to sob about how he was going to tell his daddy on me."

"That was when I lost control. All I could think of was that little sneak, spreading stories about him, and you know a teacher can stand that kind of gossip. The teacher I held him the more I sneered. I tried to talk to

Hope Bobcats Whip College All-Stars 19-6

Last night, the Hope Bobcats met the College All-Stars from Hope at Hammond Stadium in a pre-season football game. The Bobcats defeated the All-Stars by a score of 19-6.

In the first quarter David Watkins threw a pass to Bill Hair. The pass was good for 35 yards. The ball was on the 3 yard line and John Graves went over for the touchdown, but the try for P.A.T. was not good.

Led by the quarterbacking of Tommy Polk the College Boys scored their only touchdown in the first quarter.

In the second quarter the Bobcats were led by the hard running of fullback Don Booth. Booth scored the second Bobcat touchdown and the conversion was good.

The two teams battled to a scoreless third quarter. Watkins opened up the fourth quarter by ripping off 21 yards and a T. D. The try for P.A.T. was not good. The rest of the game was battled to a scoreless end.

Outstanding defensive stalwarts for the Bobcats included center Roy Rows, tackle Jerry Thurman and halfback John Graves.

The Bobcats open their regular season next Friday night when they meet the Pine Bluff Zebras in Hammond Stadium.

Burglar Locks Duke in Bedroom

LONDON (AP)—An enterprising burglar locked the enterprising Duke of Bedford in his bedroom early today.

The Duke, Barnum of British bluebloods, heard the key turn and scrambled for the phone. The burglar, having pocketed a $100 watch, heard the phone and scrambled for freedom.

"It's becoming a bore," said the duke, who was lately host to a nudist convention in his efforts to make his stately country home earn its keep.

"This is the twelfth time we've been burgled — and always we have the same mess of broken glass to clear up," he explained.

The burglary was at the duke's London apartment.

Dr. Francis E. Townsend introduced his old-age pension plan in 1934.

OUTDOORS with John Alden Knight

What Price Biologists? Why is it we wonder that inclusion in the Government payroll seems, all too often, to clog up the thinking processes? A fine case in point is the attitude of the Civil Service Commission regarding the starting pay and, for that matter, the eventual salaries of biologists.

Wildlife Management Institute reports that the G. S. C. is "not to be higher starting pay for biologists."

We wonder why. Biologists have the same academic training and equivalent scientific training and experience as the workers in the physical sciences, yet, despite this background, they have substantially lower starting salaries in each grade of employment.

For example, new employees in the fish and game management field receive about $450 less than those in the physical sciences fields at the Grade 5 level. Certain new forestry employees receive up to $300 more per year than the biologists of the same level. As I say, decisions like this don't make very much sense.

Nature, the biologists are upset and resentful over matters as they stand now. Can't blame them for that. Moreover, if the salary preference continues, it will be increasingly difficult to interest good men in entering the fish and game management fields. After all, just one of those so-called sex things?

When the door closed, Morrison sank into the chair and gave himself over to his fatigue. The price of a man's good name had been too high. He had paid a great price, but even that was not enough. You can't buy enough light to blot out the shadow of a killer.

The murderer looked at his lips and shuddered. All lower in his mind, Morrison was beginning to think that perhaps he was thinking about what he had done, when he asked, "You don't suppose people are going to consider my relationship with Mrs. Janssen as

Katie Saved Their Lives Two Times

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP) — "Katie saved our lives twice. If she hadn't nursed us, we would've died in bed. Then we passed out, and we would've died there on the floor if it hadn't been for her."

Katie is a dachshund — and a brave one. She won a medal and a citation for distinguished dog heroism Thursday for her courage the night she saved her owners, Capt. and Mrs. Victor H. Vogel, from carbon monoxide poisoning.

A faulty flue on a new furnace sent fumes into the home where the U.S. public health officer and his wife were asleep last Dec. 13. Katie somehow knew the odorless gas was filling the house.

"We had her in a bedroom near ours because she had a new litter of eight puppies," said Capt. Vogel. "In the night she started making such a disturbance she woke us up, and my wife went to see what was wrong."

"My wife said she felt sick. I jumped out of bed and caught her as she fell—and then I passed out to."

"The next thing I knew, Katie was jumping all over Mrs. Vogel and me, licking our faces and nuzzling us. I got up and managed to open a French door, and we dragged ourselves outside."

Then, as Vogel lay in a half-faint on the lawn, Mrs. Vogel remembered the puppies. She re-entered the gas-filled home and brought them safely out in a waste basket.

Firemen gave the Vogels oxygen and they recovered. So did Katie and her puppies. Thursday, at fire headquarters, Katie — pedigree name Kandi Kate—got her reward.

Officials of a dog food firm gave their national dog bravery award to Katie. "She can't read the citation," said Vogel. "But she can sure use the rest of the award."

The award included 50 pounds of dog food.

Co-ops Are Told to Strike Back

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (AP)—Rural electrical co-operatives were urged yesterday by a former Arkansas congressman to strike back at "amazing and almost unbelievable" attacks on them.

Clyde T. Ellis told a 4-state meeting of co-op leaders here: "The attacks directed at us this year have been amazing, almost unbelievable. They've been spawned in Congress, in administrative offices, in state capitals, in the slick, persuasive medias of mass communications. We've been shouted at, lied about, deceived and double-crossed."

Ellis asked the co-op men to mobilize, to get legislation to curb authority of state regulatory commissions over co-op rates and make plans to build their own power plants.

Ellis is general manager of the National Rural Electric Co-operatives Assn., representing 950 co-ops with about 3 1/2 million member families.

The Arkansas General Assembly passed an "Act to Conserve the Natural Gas Resources" in 1917, before the discovery of oil.

The immediate families were present at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Bishop College, Marshall, Texas, and is an instructor at Lincoln High School of Washington, Ark.

The groom is the son of Mr. Florine Thomas and James Edwards of Elkhart, Texas. He is a graduate of Prairie View College, Texas, and is an employee of Lott's Bureau Association, Dallas, Texas.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's brother, Larnell Martin, immediately after the wedding in Dallas. Approximately 60 people attended.

Misses Mary Ann McFadden and Barbara Graham left Sunday, Aug. 31, for Little Rock, where Miss McFadden will enter Philander Smith College as a freshman. Miss Graham is a sophomore at Philander.

For the past month, Mrs. Lucy Cooper of Toledo, O. has been a guest in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Willie Evans and Mr. Evans.

On Monday, Sept. 8, the Evans will motor to Toledo to take Mrs. Mrs. Cooper home.

The Basic Side

IT'S that time again... the time that challenges anew an army of vigorous American youth to the task of preparation in basic education that will equip them with know-how for their tomorrows. Here young minds fresh from their bowl of wheaties, assemble for classroom and playground training. Dear Teacher, responsibility lies heavy on your shoulders. Don't forget that along with reading and writing and arithmetic—lessons in how to live God's way are needed. Teachers and students alike have God to honor and your country to save right there in your classrooms. Always remember, "A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver."

Proverbs 25:11. Blending of the academic with the spiritual lessons of Jesus, the greatest teacher, offers a moral and spiritual constitution possessing all the qualities basic in life.
